ITALY FRIULI ISONZO

SINCE 1648, THE HISTORY OF ANGORIS IS DEEPLY ROOTED IN CORMÒNS.

“There are many ways to write about history. One can look at it from the top, watching it flow like a powerful river. Or one can lurk in a specific spot and watch what happens around him: reconstructing the general picture from a detail. Because history flows, it creeps and sometimes overwhelms or silently and discreetly retracts, almost as if it were scared.”

Our history starts its path in Cormòns 1648, when the Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire Ferdinand III (the Hapsburg Family were the governors of this land at the time) thanked Locatello Locatelli for its service during the Thirty Years’ War, donating him 300 fields in the area known as “Langoris”.

It has been almost four centuries since then, and Tenuta di Angoris takes care with the same dedication of both its 600 hectares of forests and vineyards and Villa Locatelli, the historical mansion, heart of the company and custodian of the tradition.

La Gelsomina

La Gelsomina Farmhouse on Etna is the result of a process that began in the 1980s, when engineer Alfio Turrisi decided to give his father a unique place, almost suspended between A Muntagna and the sea: La Gelsomina.

15 hectares of vineyards, orchards and olive groves, where the most representative cultivars of the former Mascali Country are grown. The care and passion with which each green corner is treated and the desire to grow and improve step by step have transformed a place that was already suggestive by nature into a high expression of human dexterity.

Soon La Gelsomina became a winery and from 2018, with the collaboration of Tenute Orestiadi, wine tourism began to take shape, culminating with the opening of 6 rooms in 2021, becoming La Gelsomina Farmhouse on Etna.

ITALY VALPOLICELLA

LE PREARE

The brand Le Preare was created by Cantina Valpolicella Negrar to pay tribute to a history, where previous generations very often paid a very high price, allowing today's generation of vine growers to benefit from the hard work of their forefathers.

Located in the heart of the Valpolicella Classico, this area was also known for its prestigious stones, such as the red marble of Verona. It was widely used by the Venetians when building their villas. However, the use of other local stones, less prestigious than marble, was widespread. The antique mines where the stone was taken, were called "preare" in local dialect. The local stones were used to separate the vineyards and also to build the terraces, allowing the vines to grow also on steep slopes.

PUGLIA

A story begun by Giovanni in the Gianfreda family’s “palamientu” and continued with his son Costantino, who joined his father in the business when, in the 1920s, they had to face a particular moment in Apulian viticultural history: the vineyards were destroyed by phylloxera.

All resources and energies were thus devoted to planting new vineyards—which took the place of the old fig and almond trees—and producing wines that at the time were destined for wineries in northern Italy.

Cosimo, Giovanni’s grandson, continued the family tradition with great determination, increasing production and structuring the organization: in fact, at the end of the 1950s he built the first true mechanized winery.

SENSI
FAMILY OF WINEMAKERS SINCE
1890

Poggio Scudieri

The history of our family began in 1890, with Pietro Sensi who, with humility and great dedication, began producing wine for the local market. Over the decades the company grew steadily by extending the vineyards, expanding the wineries and opening new markets, first in Tuscany and then in the rest of Italy. At the beginning of the nineties, Massimo, Marco and Roberta Sensi, young, far-sighted and raised among the vineyards, joined the company and drove a significant change in quality through the deep renovation of the family's vineyards, major innovations in the wineries and the expansion on international markets. Lorenzo Landi, a wine expert of unquestionable ability, perfectly in line with the spirit of the company, also contributed to the growth of the quality and reputation of the Sensi wines. Now, the quality of our wines is rewarded by consumers and professionals around the world who recognize in our brand consistency of values, sincere passion and the taste of an authentic Tuscany.

ITALY PIAMONTE

It all began in the 1960s in San Rocco Seno d'Elvio, a small hamlet in the municipality of Alba.

Armando Piazza and Gemma Veglia were two newlyweds who came from farming families; together they decided to follow family tradition by investing in a special territory, the Langhe.

Albino Bonelli meets Wilma Piazza (Armando's daughter) during the grape harvest. Thanks to his studies as a surveyor, Albino sees the great potential in the Piazza family's old farmstead. Wilma and Albino establish the Baràc farm and begin renovating the old farmstead.

The Cascina Baràc holiday farm is opened in 2002, and their adventure begins. In 2015 wine production begins. A new winery is opened, and the wine production begins. The farm starts to use an organic approach.

MAISON de SADE

LA PHILOSOPHIE DE LA MAISON DE SADE

It took time for sade to emerge from shade and flourish in full daylight. Nearly two hundred years before the whole greatness of his name finally came out into the open, like a fabulous opera resounding with excess and defiance.

After the slow ascent of his works up the path of fame, my wish, in creating Maison de Sade, is to revive the epicureanism of the „divin marquis”, who devoted his life to pleasure. An aesthete with a fiery temperament, the marquis demanded no less than perfection in matters of gastronomy. This same demand for perfection is to be found in the Maison de Sade products.

La Maison de Sade will lead you into a universe of art of living and pleasure. A unique experience of festive sipping, stimulating desire. Une expérience unique de dégustation festive qui attise le désir.

FONDÉ EN 1876

J. Denuzière

The history of J.Denuzière began in 1876 at the heart of a region with a 2000-year wine heritage. The story continues to be written today.

At that time, Joanny Paret, founder of the winery based in Condrieu had the objective to develop the reputation of the local wines in the Rhône cafés and bistros by distributing them with his team of horses. After doing so for 40 years, his son, Joseph Paret took over and successfully grew the family business over the following decades thanks to his entrepreneurial spirit.

Paret Wines then became Denuzière Wines when Pierre Denuzière, Joseph Paret's son-in-law, succeeded his father-in-law in the 1940s. For 80 years, the name "Denuzière" has been part of the wine-growing landscape in the Rhône Valley.

Today, the J.Denuzière micro-cuvées are shaped by this Condrieu heritage which has been strengthened through the vintages.

CHÂTEAU TROUSSAS

It was in 1993 that Marie-Laure and Gilles Ferris arrived in Valeyrac, a village of 600 people situated between Soulac and Pauillac, on the banks of the Gironde estuary.

Their property, soon to be 13 hectares, has been built up over the years by buying up several plots, giving birth to a tailor-made vineyard with sandy-gravel and clay-limestone soils.

A FAMILY STORY

„I like the idea of crossing my ancestors again in what I propose.” Laurent Cisneros

His winemaker’s soul and his conqueror’s heart come from Spain. His great-grandfather grew the vine in San Martín de Valdeiglesias, in the Community of Madrid. Born in Bordeaux, he grew up in the softness of the Charente. From his Spanish father and his mother from Picardy he inherited the courage and sense of commitment, as well as a constant positive energy.

As a young man, he embarked on a career as a soccer player before putting his fighting spirit at the service of his father’s craft business, which he continued to prosper before selling him in 2010. It was then that he finally chose the wine, sealing his destiny and that of his family in the Château de Rouillac, which in just 10 years he became a jewel of the Pessac-Leognan denomination.

CHATEAU
LAGREZETTE
MALBEC

A CASTLE WHOSE ORIGIN DATES BACK TO THE 12TH CENTURY

In the 15th century, Adhémar de Massaut built the castle on the foundations of a 300-year-old medieval fortified house. Located on „la petite grèze” which dominates the Lot, it is called Château Lagrézette. With medieval architecture, in the 16th century it was adorned with an elegant Renaissance ornamentation. The first written harvests date back to 1503.

In the middle of the 20th century, the castle was abandoned, but in 1980, its new owner Alain Dominique Perrin undertook ambitious works to restore the Domaine to its former splendor. In 1982, Lagrézette was classified as a Historic Monument.

THE MALBEC OF LAGRÉZETTE :

A STORY THAT GOES BACK TO THE XVTH CENTURY

The history of Château Lagrézette is strongly linked to that of the vine, since the first written records of the harvest date back to 1503. When Alain Dominique Perrin took over the Lagrézette estate in 1980, he decided to give back to Malbec, a great grape variety that was the favorite nectar of the Emperor of all the Russians Pierre Le Grand, its letters of nobility. With the talent of Michel Rolland, a world-renowned oenologist, the hybrid vines are torn off and replaced by the original Malbec. Today, the Château's vineyard covers 90 hectares divided into three estates.

ALAIN DOMINIQUE PERRIN

Known globally as the passionate and dedicated proprietor of Lagrézette, M. Perrin has devoted monumental energy towards the restoration of Chateau Lagrézette. Paramount to this end has been the replanting program, vineyard expansion and exacting maintenance of its spectacular vines.

His wines, which are at once powerful, generous, elegant and refined, are the expression of a profound love of the region, of its art of living, culture and traditions.

ST PATRICE
CHÂTEAUNEUF-DU-PAPE

CHÂTEAUNEUF-DU-PAPE FROM THE DOMAINE

Following in the Clos footsteps, Châteauneuf du Pape from the Domaine is a fine, elegant and pure wine. It is made from the prestigious „lieux-dits” of the appellation: Cabrière, le Pied Long, les Terres Blanches, les Gallimardes and les Marines. Our vines grow peacefully and take full advantage of the richness offered by the diversity of the terroirs: sandy-clay soils with a predominance of white clay, red clay covered with rolled pebbles but also with limestone and a few touches of yellow clay make up the solid base. Careful attention is given to soils and each plot is being tended to with respect for the Earth and its cycle. These grapes become exceptional juices thanks to the blend of diverse soils and grape varieties (Grenache, Mourvèdre and Syrah). Strengthened by their know-how, the St Patrice team takes heart to creating a rare and ambitious Châteauneuf-du-Pape.gentle and natural, based on the principle of infusion.

Situated in the heart of the Mâconnais in Davayé, this dynamic duo has gained an intimate knowledge of the local terroirs. Their location has also enabled them to establish strong partnerships with winegrowers, leading to the creation of their brand, Albert Fontaine, which further enhances the quality and distinctiveness of their wines.

FRANCE BEAUJOLAIS

CHÂTEAU DE PIZAY

A thousand years of history...

The first written record of the name PIZAY was in the charters of CLUNY Abbey in 1030 AD.

Gosmard de "PIZEYS" built a wall around a stronghold in 1030. It is on this date that the name of "Pizay" is mentioned for the first time in the charters of the abbey of Cluny. The descendants of Gosmard succeeded him for 9 centuries.

In the 14th century, the Lords of Pizay were forced to erect a strong square keep, a French style garden laid out like a chessboard was added.

Charles de Grimont

Funder of the brand, Charles de Grimont was a pionier in Burgundy agriculture and viticulture.

Originally, the wines were made from a single grape variety, mainly pinot noir and eventually gamay. And for the white mainly chardonnay. Fruity and with a good aromatic complexity, the wines 200 years ago were quite different from today, due to the colder climate and lower expertise on wine-making.

USA WILLAMETTE VALLEY

Coleman
VINEYARDS

Initially planted in 1991, Coleman Vineyard is located within the Western region of the Willamette Valley. Nestled in a protective weather shield provided by the local Coast Range foothills, the site consists of almost 14 acres of pinot noir and 9 acres of pinot gris vines. Our vineyard lies beside the Van Duzer corridor, an opening through the mountain range leading to the Oregon coast which typically provides our warm summer days with crisp afternoon winds, cooling the evening temperatures down significantly.

We believe this temperature variation alongside the area's rich volcanic soils are a major contributing factor to the phenolic characteristics and brightness of the wine, providing a healthy structure for aging in addition to signature dark cherry and spice flavors accentuated by intense color.

Because these influences have helped to shape a geology and climate unique to the vineyard growing regions of the Willamette Valley, our site is located within what is now known as the McMinnville AVA.

THE DIRT

Formed over 40 million years ago by oceanic volcanic uprisings followed by deposits of lava from the Cascade Mountain eruptions (known as basalt tufts), our soil comprises of silty clay loam over a fractured volcanic basalt base. This marine and volcanic influence have provided our site with layers of Jory, Yamhill, and Peavine soils types, set on gentle slopes between 300-550' elevation.

WINEGROWERS SINCE 1885

We are heirs to a long wine tradition throughout 4 generations of family business. Since 1885 we have been dedicated to viticulture and especially to the production of great wines.

Due to the innovative spirit that has always characterised our winery, and after many years in the sector in wine export, we wanted to take one step further: in 1971 we were the first Valencian winery to market bottled wine under our brand Castillo de Liria, which nearly fifty years later is still one of our iconic brands.

Our growth continued, so in 1990 the Gandía family decided to invest in the Hoya de Cadenas Estate. A wine-maker's paradise located in Las Cuevas de Utiel, this idyllic spot has the perfect characteristics for yielding the finest grapes and thus we were able to produce excellent wines on the same estate. This meant a quantum leap in the quality of our wines and since then the search for excellence has been our winery's hallmark.

BODEGAS GANDIA TODAY

The winery is currently run by the 4th generation of the Gandía family. We remain faithful to our founding values and contribute to the progress and prosperity of the business by focusing on quality and innovation, without forgetting our wine-making tradition that has been passed on to us.

SPAIN DO PENEDEÈS

SINCE 1963
JEAN LEON
A MAN, A TIME, A WINE

Jean Leon is a small winery located in the Penedès region. It was founded in 1963 by the Cantabrian Jean Leon (born Ceferino Carrión). He was a visionary who realised his two great dreams: to open the most luxurious restaurant in Hollywood, and to make an exclusive wine to be enjoyed by his important clientele.

The winery, owned by the Torres family since 1994 and managed by Mireia Torres since 2010, was the first to produce a single-variety Cabernet Sauvignon wine in Spain. It was also the first winery in the Penedès region to receive 'Vi de Finca' recognition for four of its wines. This is the highest distinction awarded by the Government of Catalonia.

With 65 hectares of vineyards, all our wines have been certified organic since the 2012 vintage.

1948

In Bayona, Bordeaux and Paris, Ceferino worked as a waiter, interpreter and everything he could manage.

1949

he also worked as a taxi driver in NY. His licence number was 3055.

1951

Jean Leon is recruited by the Army Corps of Engineers (LA).

1953

Jean Leon returns to Hollywood and soon finds work in two fashionable venues: Villa Nova and Villa Capri, the latter owned by Frank Sinatra and the legendary baseball player Joe Di Maggio.

1955

Jean Leon forged a strong friendship with James Dean.

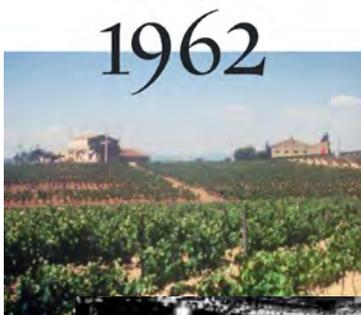

1956

LA SCALA

La Scala became the meeting point for the most influential Hollywood, music, politics and society celebrities of the time: icons like Marilyn Monroe, Zsa Zsa Gabor, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Marlon Brando and Robert Wagner, among others. The fame that Jean Leon and his restaurant La Scala earned was such that he was converted into a fictional character and setting for the most famous bestsellers of love and luxury, as demonstrated by the writings of Jackie Collins and Judith Krantz.

Bodegas Lopez Morenas, a winery group that started as familiar, is one of Spanish leading companies in producing and commercializing economic wine, liquors and juices, recognized in both national and international markets for its high quality and wide flexibility, as well as their large range of products and formats for your table.

In the year 2010, the challenge is to increase its sales volumes, to expand the range of formats, to search packaging materials that respond to emerging market needs.

It was necessary to build a new facility just outside the city.

SPAIN BIERZO

The Estevez Family, originally from Valtuille de Abajo town and established in México since the late 1930s, has dream a project born from the idea of a family returning to its home to protect its heritage. A heritage 100 years old, that began with the first vineyard that great-grandfather Ramón bought with the money he earned as a migrant worker in Brazil.

Helios Estévez is a businessman and poet that before migrating to Mexico to meet his father, an intellectual libertarian in exile for political reasons since the Spanish Civil War, planted, worked, trimmed, harvested and even grafted part of the vineyards that today make up the Estévez Bodegas y Viñedos Estate.

DO COSTERS DEL SEGRE

TOMÀS CUSINÉ
EL VILOSELL

The viticulturist and businessman Tomàs Cusiné Barber (1962) owns the following wineries:
Tomàs Cusiné, Castell del Remei, Cérvoles Celler and Cara Nord.

In 1985, he started making wine at the family-owned Castell del Remei winery. With this company, and while on the lookout for mountain lands and vineyards, Tomàs also started the Cérvoles winery in 1997. In 2003, in the same area, he decided to start his most personal project to date, which ended up becoming the winery that bears his name in the village of El Vilosell.

Expert in the DO Costers del Segre wine region, he goes over the limits imposed by the designation of origin and creates the Cara Nord cellar (DO Conca de Barberà) and also starts producing the Mineral wine (DO Montsant).

Tomàs Cusiné leads one of the most genuine winemaking groups in the country, with a production that is exported in its 50% to more than 40 countries spread out over five continents. His wines have been singled out by prescribers, sommeliers, critics, oenological guides and specialised “medias”.

SPAIN CONCA DE BARBERÀ

CARA NORD

by Tomàs Cusiné

CARA NORD IS A YOUNG WINERY.

Its location, the vines, the climate, the land and the craftsmanship of those who work there are decisive towards the creation of the personality of each one of our wines.

The winemakers behind Cara Nord, including the owner and viticulturist Tomàs Cusiné, had long been familiar with the majesty, the magnificent climate, the land and the history of quality winemaking of the North Face of the Sierra de Prades since a long time ago. It is an environment classified as of great Geological Interest and protected by the Natural Park of the Forest of Poblet.

SPAIN ALICANTE

CENTENNIAL WINE TRADITION

Bogedas Bocopa was created in 1987 when a group of local cooperative wineries joined forces to better market their produce. They stopped selling in bulk and focused on bottled wine in order to sell more of the member wineries' production. This turned out to be a pivotal decision for the company's future. Now the future has become the past. Allow us to share it with you.

OWN BRAND

Just a year after the company was formed, Viña Alon, Bodedas Bocopa's very first own brand wine was born. A small bottling machine was leased from the area belonging to the now defunct Bodegas Eval de Villena winery to bottle the wine. That same year, at the 1st Alicante Wine Exhibition, which was then held in Firalacant, the red and rosé versions of Viña Alone won gold medals. These were the first in what would be a long line of prizes and awards which has never ended.

The origins of our winery come from the same-named village: Paniza. A small agricultural town near Cariñena, the shire capital. Here we began this adventure to offer the world the best of our land:
Our Wine.

Today, we continue our work, with the same enthusiasm and dedication as our founders. We maintain our values, adapting and renewing ourselves to face the challenge presented by the 21st century. Altogether, we are about 300 wine growing partners. Amongst ourselves, we own approximately 3,000 hectares of vineyards, with different varieties, of which the grapes are harvested each year.

GALICIA

Viña Almirante

In the year 2000 a group of wine growers dreamed up what is today Viña Almirante, a winery made up of 80 partners and families who live by and for wine.

We were inspired by the historic past of Portas (Galicia/ Spain) and the legacy of geographer Domingo Fontán, an illustrious local figure who helped us to realise that on the basis of emotional cartography we could make outrageously personal wines.

Portas is synonymous with history, origins and culture.

That of Galicia, and that of our local ancestors. History tells that in the 12th century king Ferdinand II of León gave the Cistercian monks the first plantation of albariño grapevines on record, the Paradisus estate in Santa María de Portas.

ARGENTINA SALTA

DESDE 1850
ETCHART
SALTA | ARGENTINA

Our history and that of the valley have been linked for more than 165 years. In 1850, one decade after the foundation of Cafayate's city council, Flavio Niño y Plazaola decided to start a winegrowing activity in this unexplored location on the map. In those times, when the region was not even a project of what it turned out to be, this visionary set up his first white vines there.

With the 20th century underway, more precisely in 1938, Arnaldo Benito Etchart bought this winery which belonged to his wife, Carmen Rosa, and her family, and started the development process which led its establishment to become what it is today: one of the most prestigious wineries of Argentina.

Bodegas Etchart is the oldest operating winegrowing premise in the valley and one of the best proven record in Argentina: an authentic synonym for Cafayate and its high-altitude wines.

ITALY TUSCANY

Four members of the Sabatini family are responsible for creating SABATINI GIN: Ugo, his two sons Enrico and Niccolò, and Ugo's cousin, Filippo.

Sharing a fondness for an aperitif before meals, a family custom that dates back to the early 1900s, as well as the desire to undertake a family project, the four men decided to join forces. Although their professions in marketing, finance, and the law have often taken them abroad, the Sabatinis have always remained connected to their land, and in particular to Cortona and Teccognano, the area in the heart of the Valdichiana where the company was founded in 2015. This is where the historic homes of Villa Sabatini and Villa Ugo, the center for visitors and for activities, are located. Acquired by their great-grandparents at the beginning of the twentieth century, the houses are the true heart of the company.
